

Production Quality Assistance Executive

Sanlev is a Greek aluminium extrusion company that produces high-quality, bespoke aluminium profiles and ships them worldwide. We constantly improve and update our quality management system and procedures to ensure that we conform to the strictest standards. We believe that commitment to quality is means to continuing growth.

We are looking for an organized and result-oriented young executive willing to learn and support our quality team.

What we need

- Graduate with a degree in Engineering (Mining and Metallurgical, Chemical, Mechanical) or in Materials Science
- Proven relevant internship or work experience is a must
- Being highly proficient in spoken and written English is essential
- Strong attention to detail
- Critical thinking and problem-solving ability
- Very good communication skills, both verbal and written
- Military obligation fulfilled (for male candidates)

What we offer

- Learning opportunities
- Professional growth and development opportunities
- Team cooperation
- Friendly environment

To apply for this position, please send your resume to career@sanlev.gr

In Sanlev, we promote, encourage and empower our employees by contributing to their professional and personal evolution. Our main goal is to create a working environment that supports our employee's development based on equal opportunities. We embrace diversity and prevent discrimination.

Only candidates selected to continue the interview process shall be contacted

By applying for the position, you consent to keeping your CV in our database.