

C/C++ Developer

Athens, Attica, Greece · Information Technology · CCD_03.2019

The C/C++ Developer, as an integral member of the Software Development team, will contribute with his technical expertise, in building and supporting robust solutions for the Greek market.

Key Duties & Responsibilities:

- Designs, builds and maintains efficient, reusable and reliable C/C++ code
- Modifies existing C/C++ source in order to realize change requests, R&D and/or bug fixes
- Executes rigorous unit tests on new code and code changes in accordance with specified test plans
- Clearly and concisely documents code additions and changes, test procedures and results and all other work
- Performs sustained engineering of existing applications, as required, including issue triage and defect assessment

Requirement

- BSc in Information Technology field. MSc degree will be preferred
- 5+ years of experience in building high volume, high availability distributed systems and multithreaded programming
- Profound C/C++ knowledge
- Thorough knowledge of the standard libraries, STL containers and algorithms
- Solid understanding of object oriented programming concepts
- Strong knowledge of software engineering best practices, including design patterns and UML
- Experience with the implementation of automated testing platforms and unit tests
- Good knowledge of SQL
- Experience in Linux shell scripting
- Familiarity with code versioning tools such as Git, SVN
- Familiarity with Agile development methodology
- Knowledge of .NET Framework and C# will be considered as big plus
- Strong analytical and problem solving skills
- Effective organizational skills; ability to work within strict timeframes
- Attention to detail

- Team spirit attitude and flexibility to adapt to changing priorities
- Excellent use of Greek and English languages (oral and written)
- Completed military obligations (for male candidates)

BENEFITS

The company offers excellent career opportunities and a competitive compensation package, based on the qualifications of the candidate.

All the interested applicants should apply to this link