

New job opportunity in Cyprus / Greece Junior Innovation Manager

The Center for Technology Research & Innovation (CETRI), a Research & Technology organisation based in Limassol, Cyprus with an affiliate entity in Athens is currently seeking to fill one new job opening:

Junior Innovation Manager in Horizon 2020 Research Projects

Main Duties:

- Implementation of relative Tasks for various Horizon 2020 projects {Dissemination, Communication, Exploitation & Innovation Management Tasks}
- Preparation of the corresponding Deliverables and Technical Reports for the European Commission

General Requirements:

- Applicants should be graduates of Engineering disciplines with post graduate studies in Economics or Management.
- Candidates should be graduates of well-established Universities in Europe or North America. Exceptional candidates from other recognized institutions will also be considered.
- Excellent working knowledge of English and MS Office is required. Ability to meet deadlines is also expected.

Additional Requirements:

- a) Applicants with documented work experience in Horizon 2020 projects are especially encouraged to apply.
- b) Soft skills and willingness to work in multinational groups

Remuneration:

- Excellent remuneration package depending on qualifications.
- Continuous support for further development.
- Excellent working environment.
- Ability to work abroad for short periods if the candidate selects so.

Applicants with above qualifications are invited to submit their CV and cover letter at info@cetri.net writing at the e-mail's subject the following: "Job ad JIM name surname". Letters of recommendation (if any) are welcome. All communication is considered strictly confidential. The most suitable applicants for the position will be invited to interview.