Front End Software Development Engineer

i2s is seeking for highly driven, self-motivated, self directed and focused individuals who will be great additions to an already dynamic, motivating and evolving environment in order to contribute to its fast growth.

i2s is offering the opportunity to get involved with new technologies, participate in the full application development life cycle, a valuable professional experience and a competititive remuneration package tailored to the applicant's seniority and qualifications through a challenging and fun to-work-in international environment.

Requirements

- BSc in Computer Engineering, Information Technology or any related field
- 1+ year software development experience
- Fluency in English language (oral and written)
- Knowledge of Visual Studio
- Experience in Web Programming (JavaScript, Angular, jQuery, HTML5, HTML/CSS)
- Ability to write clean well thought out code with an emphasis on quality, performance, simplicity, durability, scalability, and maintainability
- Willigness to follow and adapt new technologies
- Ability to integrate with different technologies
- Broad understanding of information systems
- Possession of critical/logical thinking and problem solving skills efficiently with creativity
- Demonstration of excellent, oral and written, communication skills
- Excellency in interpersonal, team, and relationship–building skills
-

Candidates with the above competencies should send their CV at xpapadimitriou@i2s.gr, referring the position Front End SW Developer (Code: FED-SC)