

ALPLA, a name that is synonymous with plastic packaging of the highest quality worldwide. Around 20,800 employees produce high-quality packaging for the food, cosmetics and cleaning industries at 178 locations in 46 countries.

Argo SA is a member of the Alpla group. In Greece we have more than 48 years' experience. We specialize in the production of plastic packaging materials for the pharmaceutical, cosmetic, plant protection, chemical, veterinary and food markets.

ARGO s.a. is looking for a qualified person to fill the position:

Junior IT Technician in the Koropi plant (Greece):

Your responsibilities:

- Support local users with supervision and training
- Support and troubleshoot the local mobile phones, client and peripheral devices
- Troubleshoot network and connectivity issues pertaining to cabling and local area network
- Introduction, operation and maintenance of local needed systems if there is no standard ALPLA solution available (e.g. phone systems) in alignment with regional IT
- Monitor and service standard ALPLA solutions provided by Corporate IT based on guidelines
- Daily monitoring of data backup
- Maintain servers and install updates regularly
- Management of problems and incidents in collaboration with Region IT, Corporate IT and/or manufacturers (e.g. hardware case handling)
- Participate in regional and corporate projects

Your competencies and qualifications:

- Bachelor's degree in computer science
- Maximum 2 years of experience as an IT technician
- Fluency in English in both written and oral

We offer:

- An international working environment within a 100% family owned company with a high degree of direct responsibility
- A diverse range of professional opportunities, projects and challenges
- The opportunity to use the own professional skills and competences within an environment in transition and cultural integration

Please send your cv to e-mail: ibal@argo-sa.gr, quoting reference "IT1"